21st CENTURY vs LEGACY COMMUNICATIONS

10.15 How Cultural Insights Are Key to Driving Disruptive Marketing in the New Economy

Robin Nayak, Chief Strategy Officer
TBWA, Singapore & South East Asia

The world is changing at a pace faster than ever before and with it consumer expectations of advertising and marketing transforming too. Brands that remain stuck with legacy thinking about their communications risk being marginalized, while new rivals steal their share of the future. This talk will discuss how 21st century communications need to be distinctive in their point of view and stay in tune with changing cultural triggers to be effective – it considers how people behave and how to invite your brand into their conversations in order to create meaningful dialogue, relationships and actions.

This case rich presentation will unveil how brands from a number of disparate categories have successfully engaged and transformed their fortunes through a combination of thought leadership and contemporary cultural insight.

Category Cases: Healthcare, Education, Telco, Confectionary, Services

Robin leads a multi-disciplinary group of strategists across the region, and over a span of 25 years in the industry, he has worked on many of the world's most dynamic brands. He is driven by the unlimited potential of disruptive and original thinking to move people and shake-up the rules of competition, with the ultimate aim of growing the long-term commercial success of the ambitious corporations he advises.

THE E-COMMERCE OPPORTUNITY

11.00 Connecting the Dots from Awareness to Conversion in the Rapidly Growing Frontier of Brand Marketing

Andrew Gnananatham, Chief Marketing Officer
Lazada Malaysia

For a time, brands advertising online had a shaky connection from impressions to sales. With the advent of large e-commerce marketplaces brands now have the ability to reach directly to targeted audiences and become more engaging and relevant to consumers. This inspiring presentation will share details on this key transformation in brand marketing in Southeast Asia and in particular, Malaysia.

- How brands can reach to relevant and targeted audiences
- How to maximize your Marketing ROI online
- What are some ways to become engaging and more relevant to your customers online
- Valuable lessons for Brand Builders.

Andrew is currently the Chief Marketing Officer of Lazada Malaysia, Malaysia's #1 e-commerce marketplace - where he leads their digital marketing, brand building and conversion optimization efforts. Prior to Lazada, Andrew consulted for the Boston Consulting Group, the World Bank and Endeavor Global - helping companies in various stages of growth to scale up their operations and enter new markets. Andrew is obsessed about making data-driven decisions, nailing product-market fit and building border-less, high performance teams.

CHALLENGES From REGIONAL BRANDS

11.45 How to Challenge Regional Brands that are Winning Consumers from MNC & Local Brands in Malaysia

Cynthia Su, Business Group Director
Kantar Worldpanel Malaysia

This trend cannot be ignored! Of late, and increasingly, regional brands have been pulling consumers away from international and local brands in Malaysia. This session will unveil the happenings and actions Malaysian brands can take to manage the challenges arising:

- Showcasing how Regional Brands have entered Malaysia with unique propositions and winning consumers
- Examples of real brands that have had their share reduced by the regional imported brands
- Examining the unique propositions of these regional brands and how to defend/neutralise
- Actions to ensure that Malaysian brands are least affected despite their presence.

Cynthia has been working in various markets for providing market insights in Asia. With her over 13 years' experience, she oversees a group of energetic and innovative people to provide shopper and trade insights to leading FMCG manufacturers and retailers to maximize the growth potential. PUTTING STORIES to WORK

Interesting Ways to Influence People & Build Brands through Impactful Story Telling

12.00

Alvin Teoh, Executive Creative Director, NagaDDB Malaysia & Bharat Avalani, CEO
Connecting the Dots Malaysia

Story telling is the most powerful way to put ideas into the world today. This is a valuable opportunity to be inspired on how to put stories to work - in lives and in bottom lines. Inspiring engagements and enduring bonds must be the goal of every brand building journey. And it happens when compelling stories are positioned in between the brand and the customer. Compelling stories will stir where it matters - at the heart and mind! Compelling stories can increase brand affinity and saliency.

This interesting case-rich presentation will explain how brand builders can create and deliver impactful personal stories and brand stories.

Alvin Teoh has been in the ad industry for 21 years. After working with many Brands, from automobiles to tourism, from paint to telcos, he's come to believe in the human approach to Brand building and that Brands have a role to play in society because what they do should matter to people. He constantly inspires his team of over 50 people to be story-tellers because people still hunger for a good story in a fast changing world. That's why he describes his job as a story-peddler.

Bharat is a Unilever Veteran who comes with rich global experience and expertise in Brand Management, Media Strategy, Brand Activation, Market Development and Integrated Brand Communications. His friends call him a memory collector and a story teller. He seeks experiences and every journey is a story for him. Like others he takes selfies; but his are different. They tell a story that is emotive and engaging. Bharat is currently on the Executive committee of the Asian Federation of Advertising Associations (AFAA) & IAA Malaysia.

ANSWERS to CHALLENGES

Answers to Selected and Demanding Challenges Experienced by Brand Marketers in Malaysia

2.00

Kua Theng Hong, Principal Consultant
Mind Connect, Malaysia

Given the challenges in the present environment, many Brand Marketers would like to have these questions answered: How do I manage customers who are price conscious? How do I attract and win customers in a category that is not experiencing significant growth? How will I ensure that a new product launch will succeed today? What should my brand do to remain competitive? How do I manage brand loyalty in an environment of fast switching? These and other pertinent questions will be answered in this case-supported session.

Kua's experience in marketing, sales and senior management was gathered through 19 years of working with AC Nielsen, Gillette and L'Oreal. He joined Gillette as Product Manager in 1994 and held various positions in Sales and Marketing before heading the company as Country Manager from 2003 to 2006. He then moved to L'Oreal Malaysia as Deputy GM to launch Garnier in 2007. After a successful launch, he took up a new challenge as Head of Sales to make L'Oreal Paris, Maybelline and Garnier brands much bigger mass players. Promoted to GM in 2009, Kua managed a double-digit consumer sell-out growth amidst the 2009 economic challenge. He now devotes his time to elevating the talent of potential and experienced brand marketers in Malaysia.

FROM BRAND-Led to COMMUNITY FIRST

Start by Understanding Social Behaviour Before Focusing on Social Platforms!

2.45

Jeremy Heng, Chief Strategy Officer
Havas Media Group, Singapore

Snapchat? YouTube? Instagram? Twitter? WhatsApp? Rather than focus on the platforms to connect with audiences, Brand Builders must first figure out WHY they want to use these channels. A compelling idea propagated by a flow of content that is 'share-worthy' and 'share-ready' is at the heart of successful social campaigns. And it starts when You understand social behaviour before focusing on social platforms. After that - How do You prioritize social channels? How do You coordinate the various platforms? And steer the customer from awareness to advocacy?

Category Cases: Fmcg, Services, Retail, Finance, Telco, Sports, Education

As Chief Strategy Officer Jeremy is responsible for interpreting briefs about consumers in order to generate insights, framing communications around compelling connection ideas, and translating them into integrated channel plans. He comes with 15 years of experience in Marketing Communications and Brand Management with MNCs and regional Brands from across Advertising, FMCG and Telecoms and has had the opportunity to shape strong equity brands such as Tiger Beer, Heineken, Guinness and SingTel. He was most recently the Associate Director for Segment Marketing and Communications for SingTel's Consumer Business.
